Add timestamp for command prompt in CentOS, Ubuntu, Debian, and SUSE Linux.

Overview: This article describes how to add timestamps to the command prompt in CentOS, Ubuntu, Debian, and SUSE Linux by editing the appropriate configuration files for each distribution.

---

- For Centos, edit .bashrc file and add the line at the end of the file.

[root@centos ~]# vi /etc/bashrc

PS1="[u@h D{%Y%m%d-%H:%M:%S}]$ "
```

An example of the timestamp in Centos:-

[root@centos ~]# vi /etc/bashrc
PS1="[u@h D{%Y%m%d-%H:%M:%S}]$ "
```

```
[root@centos 20210311-06:57:00]$ uptime
06:57:04 up 14:41, 3 users, load average: 0.00, 0.01, 0.05
[root@centos 20210311-06:57:04]$

---

- For Ubuntu and Debian, create /etc/bashrc file and add the below line at end of the file.

root@ubuntu:~# vi /etc/bashrc
PS1="[u@h D{%Y%m%d-%H:%M:%S}]$ "
```

1. For the root user, edit the .bashrc file and add the below lines at the end of the file.

root@ubuntu:~# vi /root/.bashrc

if [ -f /etc/bashrc ]; then
. /etc/bashrc
fi
```

2. For other users, edit .bashrc in the user's home directory and add the below line at the end of the file.

xander@ubuntu:~# vi /home/xander/.bashrc

if [ -f /etc/bashrc ]; then
. /etc/bashrc
fi
```

An example of a timestamp for a root user in Ubuntu:-

```
[root@ubuntu 20210313-01:47:56]$ uptime
01:48:00 up 3 days, 1:54, 4 users, load average: 0.08, 0.05, 0.01
[root@ubuntu 20210313-01:48:00]$

---

- For SUSE Linux, edit .profile file of root and add below line at end of the file,

root@suse:~$ vi /etc/profile
PS1="[u@h D{%Y%m%d-%H:%M:%S}]$ "
```

For other users, edit .bashrc in the user's home directory and add the below line at the end of the file.

xander@suse:~# vi /home/xander/.bashrc
PS1="[u@h D{%Y%m%d-%H:%M:%S}]$ "
```

An example for a normal user in SUSE Linux:-

```
[xander@suse 20210313-01:47:56]# uptime
01:48:00 up 3 days, 1:54, 4 users, load average: 0.08, 0.05, 0.01
[xander@suse 20210313-01:48:00]#
